

PROJECT SURVIVAL
CAT CONSERVATION GROUP

Coins for Cats
Conservation & Research Project needs:

Coins collected as part of the Coins for Cats drive may be specified for use in any of the following projects:

- Radio Tracking Collar
 - Provide satellite tracking of Jaguars in Brazil, Panama, and Costa Rica
 - Current need: 8 radio collars
 - Cost: $4500.00 each

- Camera Trap (Africa, Central and South America, and SE Asia research teams)
 - Allow research of animal movement, population and activity without human interaction. Especially helpful for Snow Leopards, Cheetahs, and Jaguars.
 - Current need: 6
 - Cost: $175.00 each

- Nikon Coolpix camera with GPS and time/date stamping (waterproof)
 - Allow accurate details on location as well as cat identification when spotting Cheetahs for the Mara Meru Cheetah Project
 - Current need: 6
 - Cost: $100.00 each

- Noise-free headphones (for radio tracking)
 - Allows research of animal movement and activity without human interaction. Especially helpful for Jaguars in Brazil, Panama, and Costa Rica.
 - Current need: 4
 - Cost: $80 each

- Cellphones for communication
 - Allows constant line of communication between on-the-ground teams monitoring lion pride migration through human-populated areas throughout the Ngorongoro Conservation Area.
 - Current need: 4
 - Cost: $50 each

- Rain ponchos to monitor and facilitate migration of Lion Prides in Africa
 - Provides Kope Lion trackers shelter from rain and rough weather.
 - Current need: 25
 - Cost: $15 each